Learning Mobility

Learning mobility provides for the recognition of learning and supports learner placement in a new context.

AACRAO members (e.g., registrars) are "... guardians of data and record integrity with direct contact to faculty, students and academia, (and as such) AACRAO members are in a pivotal position to address the barriers to implementation of policies and practices aimed at alleviating issues related to transfer, credit mobility, and recognition of learning

Learning-and-Employment Record

(LER) Version 1.0

LER captures an individual's academic-learning experiences and their employment history, roles, responsibilities, and achievements.

Credit Mobility

AACRAO leads higher education's advancement toward equitable policies that recognize diverse learning pathways, while supporting members in addressing the critical challenges of credit mobility to ensure all learners' achievements are properly acknowledged

Technology

AACRAO champions best practices for student data privacy while addressing both technical and psychological barriers that hinder the development of an inclusive data exchange ecosystem across US higher education.

Evolution of the Record

AACRAO will advance higher education's contribution to comprehensive learner records/learning and employment record by establishing recommendations that safeguard academic integrity, championing interoperability and student-centered documentation, and actively pursuing collaborative innovation partnerships.
